Jane E. Ferreira

President and CEO of Mercy Learning Center of Bridgeport, Connecticut

Educate a woman... Educate a family. That's the mission of one of Bridgeport's most ambitious and successful educational centers. The Mercy Learning Center is, in modern parlance, a hybrid. It's part school and part social service agency, and all about family. Led for the past six years by Jane E. Ferreira, it continues to break new ground and search for innovative ways to meet the needs of disadvantaged women and their families.

Ms. Ferreira gave up a position as an associate chaplain at Yale University to address, head on, the vexing challenges of life in inner-city Bridgeport. In July 2002, when she took up the presidency of Mercy Learning Center, she found powerful needs, a dedicated staff and a physical plant that offered the possibility for an extensive expansion of services. Her goal was to fill the center with mothers and their children offering whatever services could help lift them from helplessness to hope. Today, the center serves some 500 urban women and about 100 children—three times the number of women and six times the number of children from just six years ago.

While Mercy Learning Center works to educate women—and thus educate their families—it makes available an extraordinary array of services through more than 60 agencies in Greater Bridgeport. Among them are crisis intervention, medical and dental care, immigration services, housing and employment issues and “lots and lots” of legal support.

The center has expanded its core services over the years. It began welcoming those whose first language is not English in an effort to meet the needs of the city's large immigrant population. Five years ago, it began offering GED classes, and nearly 50 women have achieved this milestone achievement—with half of them now in college. Employment training includes use of Mercy's computer lab, and graduates are now at work in better positions. One company, for instance, makes it a point to ask for Mercy Learning Center women when recruiting new employees.

Ms. Ferreira quickly credits her staff of 28 and some 400 volunteers for the center's remarkable history. Her own lifetime of service has surely positioned her for this kind of leadership. She spent more than 25 years as a pastoral minister and administrator, and her life continues to be a rich source of blessings for many.

Mark E. Freitas

President and Chief Operating Officer of Frank Crystal & Company

Mark E. Freitas is the president and chief operating officer of Frank Crystal & Company, a distinguished insurance brokerage firm headquartered in the heart of New York's financial district. With offices nationwide, Frank Crystal & Company is among the top 20 insurance brokerage firms in the United States and ranks in the top five percent of brokerage firms worldwide.

Mr. Freitas joined Frank Crystal & Company in 1985 and subsequently formed the firm's Financial Services unit. He was named chief operating officer in 1999 and appointed president the following year. During his tenure at Frank Crystal & Company, Mr. Freitas has developed and implemented an array of insurance products for the financial community.

Considered an industry expert, he has provided testimony to the United States Department of Labor in Washington, D.C., on fiduciary liability insurance and bonding related to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Mr. Freitas is a regular speaker at industry forums and is frequently cited in published articles. He began his career as an underwriter at American International Group (AIG), where he went on to become manager of Financial Institution Products.

A graduate of the University of Connecticut, Mr. Freitas holds a Bachelor of Science degree from its School of Business. He has also completed various programs sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business.

A dedicated philanthropist, Mr. Freitas established the Mark Edward Freitas Foundation in 2005 to support programs that promise substantial impact on children and adolescents who are physically, intellectually and financially challenged. He also works closely with his alma mater: Mr. Freitas is a director of the UConn Foundation, a member of the Leadership Cabinet of the School of Business, and an inductee of the School of Business Hall of Fame. He has established the Mark E. Freitas Endowment Fund at the School of Business and the Mark E. Freitas Athletic Scholarship Fund. UConn's Mark Edward Freitas Ice Forum was dedicated and named in his honor in February 2005.

Mr. Freitas sits on the Board of Directors of the Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Foundation and is also a trustee of Sacred Heart University and the Signature Theatre Company in New York City.

Hans J. Gram

Retired President and Chief Executive Officer

R.S. Platou, a.s.

As a native of Oslo, Norway, Deacon Hans J. Gram comes by his Nordic love of the sea quite naturally. His father was a shipbroker who co-founded R.S. Platou in 1936. This international shipbroking company serves the shipping and offshore industry worldwide by providing services within chartering, sales and contracting of ships.

Hans began his professional association with the company in 1959, the same year he graduated from the Commercial College in Oslo. He later completed coursework in chartering, sales of ships, naval design, engineering, accounting and taxation at the Oslo Academy for Business. In 1977, he completed the Advanced Management Course for Executives at CEI in Geneva, Switzerland.

From his earliest experience as a sales trainee at R.S. Platou, Mr. Gram enjoyed growing responsibilities, with positions in the military service and with shipbrokers in Genoa and Paris. He returned to R.S. Platou in 1966, and 10 years later, founded and directed an affiliated brokerage and consultancy business in offshore oil exploration and production in Houston. Mr. Gram served as president and CEO of R.S. Platou for more than a decade and remains a non-executive director of the company.

In 2000, he became a citizen of the United States, and he and his wife, Ingela, live in West Redding, Connecticut. They are the parents of four children: Karin, Thomas, Cecilia and Jacob. The Grams are active in St. Mary Parish in Ridgefield, where he served on the Parish Council for a decade and is a member of the Finance Committee. In 2006, Hans Gram was ordained a deacon for the Diocese of Bridgeport, and he is assigned to his home parish. He has been a valued member of the Board of Trustees of Sacred Heart University since 2005 and is a Knight of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem.

University History

The Seal

The official seal of Sacred Heart University was introduced on July 22, 1963. The original pen and ink hangs in the diocesan museum at The Catholic Center in Bridgeport.

The seal consists of a shield surrounded by the inscription, UNIVERSITAS SACRI CORDIS, in large letters.

The shield consists of a dexter — the right-hand side of a shield (the left as seen by the viewer) — and a sinister, the left-hand side of a shield. The dexter impalement bears the jurisdictional arms of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The bridge above waves of flowing water affords an apt expression of the name of the diocese that encompasses Fairfield County, Connecticut, where Sacred Heart University is located. The bridge represents service, which forges strong bonds of understanding and unity between diverse constituencies, while the vivifying water symbolizes the “port” by which new knowledge and ideas energize the scholars who commit themselves to the disciplines of academic inquiry. The Cross of Our Faith above the bridge dignifies the other symbols and identifies the University as a community that celebrates the richness of the Catholic intellectual tradition.

The sinister impalement displays the personal coat of arms of the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the founder of Sacred Heart University and the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The central checkered bar, taken from the Curtis family coat of arms, suggests the collaborative nature of the learning community in which each individual member contributes to the integrity of the whole. The two diamond-shaped lozenges, taken from the Costello family shield to honor the Bishop’s mother, are placed in the upper portion to highlight the University’s two most precious treasures: Love, the compassion of God as symbolized in the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and Truth, the goal of all scholarly activity. The University shield also honors Mary, the Seat of Wisdom, by including the crescent moon, which is the symbol of Our Lady under the title of the Immaculate Conception, chosen to signify the years that Bishop Curtis spent as a professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary.

The Name

Sacred Heart University was founded in 1963 by the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, to provide an institution of higher education that would serve the needs of the people of the diocese and region, regardless of their sex, race, creed or religion.

In October 1962, Bishop Curtis announced both the plan to open a college the following September, and its name, “Sacred Heart.” The choice of name had a dual origin: it was the name of the Bishop’s first pastorate in Bloomfield, N.J., and was a pledge from the Bishop attesting to the value of such an institution.

The Mission

Sacred Heart University is a coeducational, independent, comprehensive institution of higher learning in the Catholic intellectual tradition whose primary objective is to prepare men and women to live in and make their contributions to the human community.

The University aims to assist in the development of people who are knowledgeable of self, rooted in faith, educated in mind, compassionate in heart, responsive to social and civic obligations, and able to respond to an ever-changing world. It does this by calling forth the intellectual potential of its students, nurturing each one's spiritual and moral growth, and deepening in them a sense of social responsibility. The University is committed to combining education for life with preparation for professional excellence.

Sacred Heart University is Catholic in tradition and spirit. As a Catholic university, it seeks to play its appropriate role in the modern world. It exemplifies in its life the Judeo-Christian values of the God-given freedom and dignity of every human person. Inspired by the ecumenical spirit of the Second Vatican Council, Sacred Heart University welcomes men and women of all religious traditions and beliefs who share its concerns for truth, scholarship, the dignity of the human person, freedom, and the betterment of human society. It values religious diversity as enhancing the University community and creating opportunities for dialogue in the common search for truth. Through its curricular and co-curricular activities and campus ministry programs, the University provides the context in which students have the opportunity to appropriate in a critical fashion their own religious traditions.

Sacred Heart University challenges its students to think critically, analyze carefully, evaluate with a sense of justice and proportion, and convey conclusions in an intelligible and articulate fashion. The University provides the environment in which its students can develop the aesthetic dimension of life by nurturing their abilities to imagine, create and appreciate. It assists students to acquire a rich understanding of their own cultural and family heritages so as to assume their responsibilities as conveyors and creators of culture and family.

As a community of teachers and scholars, Sacred Heart University exists for the pursuit of truth. It joins with other colleges and universities in the task of expanding human knowledge and deepening human understanding. It encourages and supports the scholarly and artistic work of its faculty and students. Further, it has a responsibility to share its resources and its special gifts and talents for the betterment of the human community. All members of the University community are strongly encouraged to participate in the wider community through service to others, especially the poor.

From its founding, the University has been recognized for its caring approach to students. This approach expresses the University's belief that each student is born with a unique set of qualities and skills. It respects the personal and academic freedom of each of its members while at the same time fostering a genuine experience of community. By so doing, it creates the environment in which each person in the University shares in common goals and a common commitment to truth, justice and concern for others.

The Mace

During the Middle Ages, the wood mace clad in metal was an effective weapon in battle, but as newer and more powerful military arms developed, it was transformed into a symbol of dignity and authority.

The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by bodyguards of 12th century English and French kings; by the end of the 16th century, they were used widely by officials of English cities and towns. Today, the use of the ceremonial mace is found in the British House of Parliament, carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and in university and college commencements and convocations.

The Sacred Heart University Mace traditionally is carried by the senior tenured faculty member and represents the President's responsibility as the chief academic and administrative officer of the University. Commissioned by President Anthony J. Cernera, Ph.D., to mark the University's 25th commencement, the mace is made of rosewood, mahogany, walnut and bronze.

Academic Dress

Tradition holds that the cap and gown were first used in ancient Greece when only youths of wealthy parents or those with patrons attended school. The wise teachers of the time believed that fine clothing and jewels should not be worn by the scholar but rather, that the scholar should wear the garments of the worker.

In the United States, the gown commonly worn for both the associate's and bachelor's degrees has pointed sleeves (with a slit for the arm). It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped open sleeves. All gowns are black and without trimming with the exception of the doctoral gown, which normally is trimmed with velvet, has three bars or chevrons on the sleeves and may be in distinctive color(s) governed by the school granting that degree. The master's and doctoral gowns may be worn open.

Upon graduation, students of old carried a mortarboard showing them to be masons of the future destined to build empires or cities or fountains of wisdom on the firm foundation of knowledge. To this day, graduates wear mortarboard caps and gowns, symbolizing that they are builders of the future.

The history of the hood, with which degree recipients are invested, dates back to 13th century England. Whether its origin is ecclesiastical or secular has never been settled. Hoods are two-and-one-half feet long for the associate's, three feet for the bachelor's, three-and-one-half feet for the master's and four feet for the doctor's degree. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution — red and white, in the case of Sacred Heart University. The color of the trim indicates the academic degree — white for arts, letters and humanities (B.A.), golden yellow for science (B.S.).

The hoods of those with graduate degrees, as well as the tassels on the mortarboards of the undergraduates, are often in the color associated with the academic field of specialization, as follows:
